

Scripps outlines transformation strategy in letter to shareholders

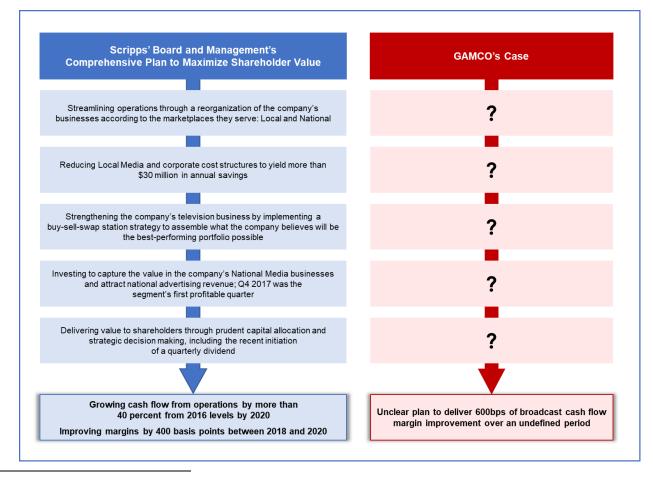

May 2, 2018

CINCINNATI – The E.W. Scripps Company (NYSE: SSP) today highlighted its transformation strategy in a letter to shareholders ahead of the company's upcoming Annual Meeting of Shareholders.

Dear Shareholder:

We are writing to encourage you to vote for your board's three highly qualified nominees at The E.W. Scripps Company's 2018 Annual Meeting of Shareholders on May 10, 2018. Please use the enclosed WHITE proxy card to vote "FOR" each of the board's nominees: Lauren R. Fine, Roger L. Ogden and Kim Williams. Please date, sign and return the WHITE proxy card in the envelope provided to you, or use the telephone or internet method of voting described on your WHITE proxy card. Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS) recommended that Scripps shareholders vote AGAINST GAMCO's nominees. ISS noted¹:

GAMCO FAILED TO ARTICULATE "A SUFFICIENTLY DETAILED OR COMPELLING CASE THAT CHANGE IS WARRANTED AT THE BOARD LEVEL."

While your board and management have made progress on our clearly defined transformation strategy, GAMCO Asset Management Inc. has only offered an arbitrary margin target with no plan for how to achieve it. In both his private conversations with company management and in his public communications, GAMCO CEO Mario Gabelli has not provided any specifics about his plan for Scripps or how his nominees would work with the Scripps board and management to achieve it, despite our repeated requests.

The company's strategy is already garnering near-term results. We continue to believe our plan could create at least as much value for shareholders as GAMCO's arbitrary and unsubstantiated margin target.

GAMCO HAS REFUSED COMPROMISE, REFUSED TO LET OUR BOARD MEET WITH ITS DIRECTOR NOMINEES AND REFUSED OUR ATTEMPTS AT PRODUCTIVE DIALOGUE.

Despite criticizing Scripps for costs relating to this proxy fight, Gabelli has refused repeated attempts at constructive dialogue and compromise. He rejected Scripps President and CEO Adam Symson's offer, on behalf of the Scripps board, to include one of GAMCO's nominees in the company slate of directors in hopes of reaching a constructive resolution.

We have the right board members with the right experience. Your board has acted as agents of change, putting the right management team in place and implementing a strategy that will continue to yield results. Electing GAMCO's slate of nominees would risk stalling and derailing the momentum we have gained since implementing our comprehensive strategy and would also eliminate the shareholder perspective on our board, considering our nominees' extensive experience as a part of the investor community.

VOTE THE ENCLOSED WHITE PROXY CARD TODAY "FOR" ALL OF THE E.W. SCRIPPS COMPANY'S HIGHLY QUALIFIED DIRECTOR NOMINEES.

IF YOU HAVE ALREADY VOTED THE WHITE PROXY CARD FOR EACH OF YOUR ACCOUNTS, THERE IS NO NEED TO VOTE AGAIN.

Please use the enclosed WHITE proxy card to vote "FOR" each of the board's nominees: Lauren R. Fine, Roger L. Ogden and Kim Williams. You are urged to date, sign and return the WHITE proxy card in the envelope provided to you, or to use the telephone or internet method of voting described on your WHITE proxy card.

Thank you for your continued support as we work to transform The E.W. Scripps Company and enhance value for all our shareholders.

Sincerely,

Rich Boehne Chairman of the Board
