

Emerging journalists can apply to work in nine nonprofit newsrooms across the country

Jan. 20, 2023

CINCINNATI – College students or 2023 college graduates can now apply for paid internships at nine nonprofit newsrooms across the country.

The Scripps Howard Fund created the internship program, aimed at giving students of diverse backgrounds high-quality, hands-on experience. The Fund is partnering with the Institute for Nonprofit News \(INN\), which leads the 400-newsroom INN Network.

There will be six 10-week internships and three 20-week internships. The selected news organizations will host and hire the interns.

The nonprofit newsrooms selected for the 20-week internship are:

- The Daily Yonder
- Carolina Public Press
- ICT

The nonprofit newsrooms selected for the 10-week internships are:

- KOSU
- South Dakota News Watch
- Lower Cape TV
- Oklahoma Watch
- Wisconsin Watch
- The Conversation U.S.

Aspiring journalists who are interested in the internship program can apply here.

An intern can apply for a grant to help with housing, relocation and other expenses to support their ability to accept an internship. Interns would apply to the Fund after being awarded an internship.

About the Scripps Howard Fund

The Scripps Howard Fund is a public charity that supports philanthropic causes important to The E.W. Scripps Company (NASDAQ: SSP) and the communities it serves, with a special emphasis on journalism education, excellence in journalism and childhood literacy. At the crossroads of the classroom and the newsroom, the Fund is a leader in supporting journalism through scholarships, internships, minority recruitment and development and First Amendment causes. The Scripps Howard Awards stand as one of the industry's top honors for outstanding journalism, and the Fund's annual "If You Give a Child a Book ..." childhood literacy campaign has distributed thousands of new books to children in need across the nation. In support of its mission to create a better-informed world, the Fund also partners with Scripps brands to create awareness of local issues and support organizations that help build thriving communities. The Scripps Howard Foundation, an affiliated organization with the Scripps Howard Fund, supports Scripps' charitable efforts through its endowment, key assets and major donations.
